EX-MINISTER PICKS CRIMINAL QC WHO WON REDKNAPP TAX CASE

HUHNE HIRES HARRY'S LAWYER

Paul Channon Times Correspondent
FORMER Cabinet minister Chris Huhne has hired Harry Redknapp's legal team to save him from the charge of jail.
After his appearance in court on Wednesday, Huhne was represented by elite criminal lawyer John Kelsey Fry, who last month helped the Tottenham manager to be cleared of tax evasion charges.
Redknapp's solicitor, Jane Glass of Burnes Copeland, is also representing the former Energy Secretary. Huhne, 57, was told today that he will face a two-week trial in October. He is accused of perverting the course of justice by dodging prison in his driving licence when he claimed that his then wife, Vicki Joyce, was at the wheel when he was caught speeding in 2003.

At that time the Liberal Democrat was a Euro MP and driving licence from Germany. The claim emerged after Huhne and his wife of 25 years separated following his affair with Lib Dem aide, Carina Tringham. He resigned from the Cabinet last month when the charges were

The Tube runs better on German lines ...

Peter Dorniczak, Dick Murray and Miranda Bryant
THE Tube is running its most reliable service in a decade, thanks to a "German approach" to management, Boris Johnson said today.
Delays are running at their lowest level as the Tube heads for its best year since 2002, according to official figures. Mr Johnson told the Standard: "The latest performance figures demonstrate we are being on target to deliver the most reliable year of Underground services for a decade."
The commissioner said the figures were "a bit better" and that the Tube had suffered no major service delays in the past two weeks. Mr Johnson conceded some passengers would not feel it was improving. "That's why we need to do better," he said.
Commuter Candy Jones, 37, from Southwold, said: "I don't think it's quite better, it's a bit worse. Yesterday the train made me 30 minutes late for work because of problems on the Central line."
Today there are delays on three key lines - the Piccadilly, the Jubilee and the District line. Two

Verschillende kleuren worden gebruikt in foto's, advertenties en details om de krant aantrekkelijker en minder saai uitziend te maken

Witte letters worden op een foto gezet om plaats te besparen

De datum is onopvallend en klein, omdat de krant elke dag een nieuwe editie uitbrengt en het 'wegwerpkranten' zijn.

Het feit dat de krant 'de krant van het jaar' is en wat hun site is zijn vetter gedrukt, om mensen ervan te overtuigen ze mee te nemen en ook nog eens naar hun site te kijken voor bijkomend nieuws

Vettere letters en ander lettertype gebruikt om aan te duiden waar het vervolg van het artikel staat
